What is REBAL?

Resonant Energy Balloon (REBAL)

- ▣ Technique to instantly increase your energy field
- ▣ Inhale/exhale, picturing “sunlight” entering top of head and out feet, creating “great ball of light” expanding around you
- ▣ Intent: keeps everything positive in, lets out all negative energy
- ▣ Significantly increases energy field

Craig explained his process for REBAL ,

‘I did a house blessing. The most striking part of the experience was the very sharp and instantaneous change of state that took place immediately with the establishment of the REBAL (increased energy) for the house.

I filmed the procedure and processed the live-stream through the Biofield Reader software which recorded the processed footage too.

The reason I can attribute the change of state with the establishment of the REBAL is that I used hand gestures to show the timing of any possible spirit-associated activities during my Exercises, as well as to indicate the time I intentioned the REBAL into place.

Craig meditates, concentrates on his breathing and visualises the light/energy forming in a ball around him – before he ‘initiates’ it throughout and around his house

Meditation continues. Note the red energy to the forehead (brow chakra)

Craig's hands move – they signal that he is initiating the REBAL.

Craig's intention is to expand the light/energy ball which he has created around him so it permeates throughout and around his house as a blessing. Craig's hands continue to move in a circle to indicate (for the camera) that he is initiating the REBAL.

Craig's arms have almost completed their circle. We can see a dramatic difference in the light/energy on and around him. His brow is now green which indicates balance. His whole chest area (heart and solar plexus chakras) have increased in frequency becoming a more vibrant gold colour. His palms contain lots of green.

Before REBAL

Darker than 'after' image
 Brow/face area red (possible energy congestion/stress)
 Heart and solar plexus areas green (balance)
 Some red congestion to thighs

Discussion

Red may indicate congested energy where the energy is not flowing smoothly, but it can also be seen as a dynamic force. For example, it has been seen around healer's hands and on/around Qi Gong masters. The red here could be an indication of dynamic energy building.

The resultant green and gold after initiating the energy balloon indicates higher light/energy vibrations.

After REBAL

Brighter than 'before' image
 Energy around and above head expanded
 Brow area now green (balance)
 Some of red congestion to throat and face diminished, more blue (calming) seen
 Heart, solar plexus and shoulder areas gold, a higher vibration than green
 Thighs now green (higher vibration than red) and a higher vibration of gold
 Green balance seen in palms of hands
